A. E. MICHAEL'S,
A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE.

The Stick Bunning.

And it came to pass on the third day of the week when the train on Mr. Thompson's railway stopped at Mr. Michael's station there stepped there from a certain young man, dressed in a straw hat and a confident smile, he looked neither to the right nor to the left but looked up to the town at the other end of the cement walkway. As he journeyed he reasoned unto himself thusly: No doubt this place has been visited many times before by guppy sharks but I'll restrain myself and give these people silent treatment.

¶ And as he entered the various marts he pretended he was a mute and wrote his wants on slips of paper provided by obliging salesmen, who gave him his heart's desire without money and without price. Verily there was a harvest! And when the shopping was finished and the young man had garnered in the various articles of adornment even unto a set of nether garments from Oom Paul, he said unto himself: Omi such an easiness; I haven't yet said a word but maybe they'll start clucking on my departure.

¶ And lo! as the salaried emerged from their trance and discovered that they had been hornswoggled, there was weeping and lamentations such as the like had not before been heard west of the 5th Mer. But there were certain wise guys dwelling in that town who did not fall for the stranger's importunities and who had said unto him: Kick thru or kick out! And behold these latter guys are not now among those on the Mourner's bench. —Selah.

Liberal Elected in Grosvenor

L.A. Giroux, Liberal candidate in the Grosvenor by-election last week, was elected over J. M. Cullen the U.F.A. candidate by a large majority. The election was the U.F.A.'s first success since they were defeated in the riding and conducted a strenuous campaign. President H. W. Wood, T. H. Underhill and numerous others stamped thruout the district, but without the expected results at the polls.

Caterpillars Dying Off.

The Department of Agriculture has received a communication from Prof. E. H. Strickland, entomologist at the University of Alberta, regarding the caterpillar pest. The Professor says that there will be a reduction in the number of caterpillars next year, owing to the work of parasites, and that in 1926 caterpillars will be reduced to almost normal numbers.

Re Special Liquor Permits

The department of liquor control has been flooded recently with applications for special permits to sell beer at picnics and fairs during the summer months.

There is no clause in the Liquor Act, Commissioner Dinning points, providing for such a permit; and there can be no permit issued to sell beer in a public place outside of licensed hotels.

The only provision that allows for a special permit of this kind states that it is for "consumption," not for sale, and has as its object to allow the use of beer or other liquors at banquets and similar functions.

Shoppers are reminded the Wednesday half-holiday is now in operation in Stony Plain and continues thruout July and August.

United States and the League of Nations

A proposal for a national referendum on the question of the United States entering the League of Nations has come from the platform committee of the Democratic National Convention, and should the Democrats carry the elections of members to the Senate and House of Representatives, the proposal for such a referendum will undoubtedly be vigorously urged.

The League of Nations is only four years old, but there is already included in its membership fifty-five nations representing more than three-quarters of the area and population of the world. Only eight countries are still outside the League, namely, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Afghanistan, Mexico, Russia, Turkey, Germany and the United States. With the signing of the Treaty of Lausanne, Turkey announced her intention of applying for membership, and Germany will no doubt be admitted as soon as the present abnormal economic and political situation is settled. Russia is antagonistic and at present ineligible due to her peculiar political constitution.

Playing the game of party politics in the United States kept that country out of the League, notwithstanding the great part taken by the late ex-President Wilson and his colleagues in drafting the League Covenant. There has, however, always been a strong sentiment in the United States in support of the League of Nations and favorable to membership and active participation in its work by the United States. That sentiment has been kept alive and developed by the League of Nations Society in the United States, and by powerful public men, newspapers and organizations.

The large measure of success achieved by the League during the past four years has also had its effect in convincing thousands of people who, in the United States, as elsewhere, were somewhat skeptical that an international organization could be created, maintained and be made effective based on a mutual understanding of international co-operation and goodwill and to achieve international peace and security. To many the idea seemed visionary, too Utopian, and altogether impracticable.

However, in a space of time actually shorter than the Great War, the League of Nations has been successful in settling three disputes which otherwise would almost certainly have resulted in wars; caused the cessation of hostilities between Poland and Lithuania; stopped a war actually in progress between Yugoslavia and Albania, and, through the instrumentality of the Permanent Court of International Justice established by the League, settled a serious dispute between Great Britain and France.

The League saved Austria from bankruptcy and has established that country firmly on the way to prosperity, thus preventing further trouble in Europe which inevitably would have followed the break-up of that country. It is now engaged in similar work for Hungary.

Through its International Labor Bureau, which consists of representatives of Governments, employers and employed, the League is improving industrial conditions by raising the standards of labor uniformly throughout the world, thus removing the old excuse that labor conditions cannot be improved in one country because of the lower standard prevailing in other countries in competition with it.

Action taken by the League stopped the extension and ravages of the plague of typhus which threatened to overrun all Europe. The League secured the liberation of half a million prisoners of war held in Russia long after hostilities had ceased. It is waging an organized world-wide campaign against the opium and drug traffic, as well as for the suppression of the traffic in women and children. It is engaged in scientific research and campaigns for the prevention of disease, and wherever a danger spot of plague arises there the League concentrates its good health forces.

The League of Nations is the greatest existing agency doing practical work for the reconstruction of the shattered nations of Europe, upon the rehabilitation of which depends the security and prosperity of the world. It is the one existing human agency carrying in itself the hope of all peoples for the maintenance of peace, and the ultimate disarmament of the nations. It is carrying on this work at a yearly cost not more than the upkeep of one first-class modern battleship.

The Great War cost Canada over one and a quarter billions of dollars, not to mention the still more tragic loss in human life, in bodies crippled and shattered, in untold agonies of human suffering. The after-cost of the war to Canada this year will be $56,720,000, or over one million dollars a week. On the other hand, Canada's contribution to the upkeep of the League of Nations, the only existing human agency capable of preventing war, will be only $198,688, or less than four thousand dollars a week. That is our national insurance premium against war.

These things are having their effect on the people of the United States, and if the League were could only be separated from party politics in our sister Republic, there is little doubt that the verdict of the people there would be. Hence the plan of a national referendum is to be welcomed. In the meantime, as the only North American member of the League, it is Canada's duty and privilege to interpret the League to our neighbors to the south, and in their intercourse with United States citizens, whether personal or in their business relationships, Canadians should strive to promote sentiment favorable to the League of Nations, and show very clearly that they are looking forward hopefully to the day when the United States will occupy its rightful place in the brotherhood of nations, and in that long-dreamed-of Parliament of Man represented by the Council and Assembly of the League of Nations.

Weekly Mail To Alaska

Railroad Makes This Possible For First Time Since 1898

Residents of the Yukon River are receiving a weekly mail service for the first time since 1898, during the great gold rush of the Yukon. The Alaska Railroad has made this possible.

A train leaves Seward, on the Gulf of Alaska of the Pacific Ocean, and winds its way to Nenana, 400 miles north of the interior. At Nenana the mail is transferred to government steamers which run on a weekly schedule down the Tanana River to Fort Gibbon on the Yukon River. From there the boats ply the Yukon to Holy Cross, 400 miles from the river's mouth.

From Holy Cross the Northern Commercial Company operates a fleet of launches to Nome and St. Michael, on the Bering Sea coast and Innok and Iditarod on the coast and Iditarod rivers in the interior.

It may be only a slight cold now—but it is kicking in the throat.

But "little colds" soon grow large and dangerous. Often they become chronic, draw catarrh, and end in consumption. Catarrh is the enemy of the throat. Heart Disease Not So Common As Is Thought

Main Cause Is Rheumatic Fever, Says Dr. Parkinson, Great London Authority

There is a world of good cheer and encouragement in those who imagine they have, or have been told they have, heart disease, in the emphatic declaration of Dr. John Parkinson, of London, England, in his address to the general gathering of the Canadian Medical Association in annual convention in Ottawa. Dr. Parkinson speaks with the authority of experience for he is physician in charge of the cardiographic department of the London hospital, physician to outpatients of the National Heart Hospital, and visiting cardiographer to the ministry of pensions.

Dr. Parkinson stated that a great range of troubles are placed under the heading of heart disease wrongfully. There are many alleged causes of heart disease, such as nervous strain, and so on, which do not really cause permanent damage to the heart. "The athletic heart," like the strained heart, is a myth, and the tobacco smoker may go blaring ahead with the full knowledge that tobacco has nothing to do with heart disease.

Dr. Parkinson states emphatically that the evidence of tobacco causing permanent disease of the heart is very small indeed. It is easy to show that the early reported cases were due to something else. Smoking has a slight effect in increasing the heart rate and raising the blood pressure, but this occurs during actual smoking and for sometime afterwards. There is no good evidence that it causes permanent injury to the heart.

The main cause of heart disease, according to this eminent British authority, is rheumatic fever, and such complaints as palpitation, distress and fainting weakness need not necessarily give an indication that heart disease is present.

War Upon Cancer

Progress Is Made in Fighting This Dread Disease

Vice-Chancellor J. G. A. Ramsay, of Liverpool University, formerly of McGill University, Montreal, in a statement declared that research work at the university had reached the stage where it was possible to effect the disappearance of some, if not all, internal cancers.

The vice-chancellor also announced that research work in connection with foot and mouth disease had advanced to a point where it was possible to predict that a remedy for the disease would soon be found.

Special Service Squadron Entertained 70,000 Visitors During Stay in Vancouver Harbor

The three cruisers of the special service squadron entertained 70,000 visitors during their 10-day stay in Vancouver harbor. On the last day, close to 3,000 children alone were taken on the ships. Vice-Admiral Sir Frederick Field said: "We have all immensely enjoyed our visit to British Columbia. Both officers and men have been absolutely overcome with the kindness and hospitality of the people, and have been tremendously impressed with the resources and prospects of the country." Two hundred of the visiting sailors were entertained July 5 in New Westminster and Cloverdale, the day's programme including the inspection of logging camps.

Canadian Engineer Has Plan To Make Seaports In The Heart Of The Continent

Ocean-going steamers before long may sail up the St. Lawrence, through the Great Lakes and into the heart of Western Canada, reaching up to Winnipeg by joining Lake Superior and Lake of the Woods into one big sea, over the waters of an artificially created sixth great lake.

Other ships can go up the Mississippi, up Lake Michigan, and across Lake Superior and, too, reach the sixth lake.

The project, which would create this sixth lake, would make possible the generation of a vast amount of hydro-electric power and would restore the lakes to the water level of 50 years ago.

And the cost? It is estimated at $500,000,000.

The tremendous undertaking is the idea of Ralph Keenie, Canadian engineer, who has spent almost a lifetime studying the water-dotted section of Canada between Lake Superior and Hudson's Bay. Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission, is considering the project.

An area as large as Lake Erie can furnish the basin for the sixth great lake, says Keenie. Into this basin, north of Lake Superior, can be diverted the waters that now flow into Hudson's Bay.

All that is necessary, says Keenie, is construction of three dams and three diversion channels. Of the three main rivers upon which the new lake will depend. Access to the lake would be effected by the English and Winnipeg Rivers, which would become navigable streams to Lake Winnipeg, and by canal to Lake Superior.

The project would more than pay for itself in a short time in waterpower and navigation benefits, says Keenie.

Yet one of its greatest advantages is seen in its possible solution of the controversy over Chicago's withdrawal of water from the Great Lakes for its sewage disposal.

"Chicago is drawing 10,000 cubic feet of water every second," explains Keenie. "This diversion has lowered the lake level about 670 and half inches. Every inch the lake level is lowered cuts the cargo capacity of big vessels and costs many cities millions to dredge their harbors so big freighters can continue to dock. The loss in power is enormous."

"With the Chicago withdrawal cut down and the immense volume of water added from the new lake project, the Great Lakes will be raised to the level of 10 to 100 years ago and the value to commerce will be incalculable."

Keenie cannot see the completion of his project before another decade or two, but when it is done, he says, it will become a priceless asset to the United States and Canada.

"Before long," he adds, "the Great Lakes will be used to make seaports in the heart of the continent. Many of the harbors and channels are shallow and it is of prime importance to conserve the water supply, to maintain levels and, if possible, to raise them."

Parasites Combatting

Caterpillar Plague

Pest Will Wane Next Year Says Alberta Professor

Professor H. H. Strickland, entomologist at the University of Alberta, has written to the provincial department of agriculture regarding the caterpillar pest and says that there will be a reduction in this number of caterpillars next year, owing to the work of parasites, and that in 1928 caterpillars will be reduced to almost normal numbers.

Mayor K. A. Blatchford, who recently requested the department of agriculture to assist in combatting the caterpillar plague, has been informed that its extent of infestation has been so great that the government could do little to afford relief.

Natural Resources Bulletin

Capital is Needed For the Development of Our Mines and Other Resources

The Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa says:

In speaking to the members of the New York Bankers' Association which met in Montreal recently, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, called attention to the great natural resources of Canada that awaited the necessary capital for their development, and advised the bankers to study these resources.

In thus speaking to United States bankers, Sir Henry did not need to include Canada's generally. There are many thousands of people, however, whose actual bread and butter depend upon Canada's natural resources, who give no consideration whatever to the basic raw materials which our forests, waterpowers, mines and fisheries are back of all industry, and Sir Henry, as head of a great railway system recognizes that it is in the development of the natural resources of Canada that the success of Canada's railways and her farmers, her artisans, her commercial and industrial interests and her people in general depends.

Study of what natural resources Canada has, what development is taking place and what the possibilities are, is most interesting and educative. Much information in this connection in the form of pamphlets and maps, is available from the Natural Resources Intelligence Service.

Copper Coins To Be Smelted

Circulated in Dutch East Indies More Than 600 Years

After circulating, many of them for more than a century in the Dutch East Indies, 233 tons of copper coins were unloaded recently on their way to a smelting plant in New Jersey. Many bore the date of 1799, others were worn so smooth that their age could not be determined.

These symbols of the trade of a corner of the world that readers of Enlightenment chiefly with the novels of Joseph Conrad soon will be transplanted into just copper, practically pure copper, however, worth about $250 a ton.

The coins were collected by the Dutch Government ten years ago when the old issues were recalled and replaced with new.

Hot plates, warmed by electricity, are set into the ground at certain street corners in Amsterdam. They are intended for the comfort of policemen on traffic duty.

The Price Of Wheat

Indications Now Point to Somewhat High Price Levels

Dr. David Friday, director of research in the National Transportation Institute at Washington, predicts that wheat will sell in the United States at $1.25 a bushel before election day and at $1.35 before Christmas, and that agricultural discontent in the west will be greatly lessened.

The leaders of the Republican party have special reasons for hoping such a forecast will be realized. It would take the wind out of the sails of the La Follette campaign, which is inspired mainly by genuine agrarian grievances. But if wheat rises to such a figure it will not be through the wisdom of politicians, but from causes which they do not control—bad crop conditions in many parts of the world, and a reduction in the acreage sown to wheat.

If wheat rises to $1.35 or $1.35 in the United States it will go equally high in Canada. Recently Winnipeg prices have been in advance of those at Chicago. There is little risk in prophesying that the price-level will be higher for this year's crop than it was for last year's but as to the Canadian crop itself, June estimates will not hold for August. So far the prospects are excellent in the three prairie provinces. A good harvest and wheat at $1.25 would be a combination that would enable the country to face the winter cheerfully. The Toronto Globe.

Sells Farms To Please People

Bulgarian King Settles Century Old Quarrel With Villagers

A quarrel between the royal house of Bulgaria and the villagers of Metchur, near Plovdiv, has been settled after a quarter of a century, and King Boris has been bombarded with telegrams from the villagers thanking him for his generosity in settling the dispute.

Metchur is an island in the Maritza, close to the village of the same name. Ex-King Ferdinand, King Boris' father, acquired, if by purchase and used it first as a game preserve, and later as a model farm. It is about a square mile in area.

The villagers never have reconciled themselves to ownership of the island by the king. When Boris ascended the throne after the abdication of Ferdinand at the end of the world war, they approached him with a proposal that he sell it to their commune.

The last phase of the negotiations was reached the other day when the king fixed the price on a purely nominal basis, and the deed was transferred to the mayor and village council. It is understood that the villagers will maintain the island as a model farm.

Youth Of Britain's Colleges Are Becoming Interested In Farming Careers In Canada

Canada may anticipate from now on a more or less steady stream of the finest product of the public schools and colleges of the British Isles to the Dominion. This is the consensus of opinion as expressed by those best apprised of the situation—the headmasters of these schools—to Professor Loghead, of Macdonald Agricultural College, St. Ann de Bellevue, Quebec, who spent three months in visiting the premier educational establishments of the British Isles to bring to the attention of students there the advantages of a farming career in the Dominion, and the benefits of completing their scholastic courses at a Canadian agricultural college.

The appropriateness of the professor's novel campaign at the present time, was attested by its unqualified success in every respect. He was very cordially received by the various headmasters, was accorded the thorough co-operation of the Conferences of Public School Headmasters, and his campaign endorsed and supported by the British press and public men in general. His reception by the various student bodies he addressed was enthusiastic and attentive. In all he visited and spoke at thirty-two of the principal and most representative public schools and colleges in England, Ireland and Scotland.

Whilst broadly addressing all the young men of England completing their education at its colleges, and pondering over careers, his message was more particularly to those youths contemplating farming careers in the Dominion. To such his advice was not to commence farming immediately, but to complete their academic work with a course of from one to four years at Macdonald College, and to initiate their actual endeavors with a thorough knowledge of Canadian ways and methods, and with Canadianization that through the co-operation of the Canadian Pacific Railway they would secure positions on selected Canadian farms for the four months of summer vacation and carry out their learning on yet more practical lines.

Professor Loghead brought before the youth of Britain's colleges in a new and forcible manner, the dignity of farming as a profession in Canada, pointing out that to young men it not only offered a congenial and profitable career, but one which appealed to men of the highest order of intelligence and greatest education, demanding the utmost scientific application and permitting them to rise to the highest positions the country can offer in all its phases of existence.

This initial campaign, which will probably be followed up by others, has unquestionably been successful, not only in directing the attention of those already contemplating farming careers to the advantages of agricultural training in Canada, but in turning the minds of many others towards the opportunity Canada offers in other lines of her national development to meet of specialized education. The masters of these various colleges welcomed the innovation because, as they pointed out, offerings for their graduates were becoming more limited every year, and they were forced to look to fields of endeavor beyond the British Isles, of which the overseas Dominions were naturally the first.

As this appeal was made to young men still pursuing their studies, and merely tending towards directing their minds along logical channels of thought, direct results can hardly be discernible at some time. That the campaign will be fruitful, however, can be judged from the fact that many young men who had already graduated from the schools were indirectly influenced and brought to see Canadian farming opportunities in a new light. Some of these are already in Canada as a result of the Professor's visit, working through the summer upon Canadian farms to attend Macdonald College in the fall, whilst many more are expected in the course of the year.

The importance of getting such a movement started cannot be overestimated. When the best educated and highest-trained of the youth of the British Isles can be brought to see and comprehend the real status of Canadian farming and the opportunity such a career offers for the utilization and development of their exceptional educational attainments, Canada should benefit immeasurably from the settlement of a great many of them. Hundreds of graduates of England's public schools have found profitable and congenial careers on the farms of Western Canada, but usually the experience has been such that they would support Professor Loghead, and advise those following them to prepare themselves for Canadianization by a knowledge of Canadian farming methods on one of the Dominion schools of agriculture.

China's Egg Production

No Poultry Farms But Every Family Has Chickens

More than 1,000,000,000 eggs are exported from China annually, according to estimates of the Foodstuffs Division of the Department of Commerce of the United States. The annual production of eggs in that country is placed by the same authority at 2,250,000,000, or the product of 350,000,000 laying hens at an average of 75 each. In addition to eggs exported in the shell approximately 57,543,000 pounds of egg albumen and yolk and 36,813,000 pounds of frozen eggs are shipped out of China each year. A report prepared on the subject says that Japan is the principal market for Chinese eggs in the shell, while Great Britain takes more than half the albumen and yolk and almost all the frozen eggs exported. The United States buys only one-fourth as much egg albumen and yolk from China as does Great Britain. The bulk of the large quantities of egg products imported by the United States, however, comes from China. "The cost of producing eggs in China is very low," the report concludes. "There are no poultry farms. A few chickens are raised by almost every family, and are fed table scraps with coarse rice or low-grade wheat and other crop refuse, vegetable scraps, and what can be picked up in the yards and fields."

Resistance Of Burmese Wood

The pyinkado, or Burmese iron wood has wonderful powers of resistance. A pillar of this almost invulnerable substance is on view at the Imperial Exposition. Under test the wood repelled a rifle bullet fired at 20 yards range without leaving a mark. It was startling to be told by a lecturer that a scirocco through and across the forests of Burma would take two miles 60 years, at the rate of two miles an hour for five hours a day. And yet some of the Burmese railway coaches are built of American timber.

Skyscrapers of the pyramidal type, such as are now becoming popular in New York, may be the solution of Tokio's problem of re-building on an earthquake-proof basis.

CANADA'S HOPES IN THE OLYMPIC SPRINTS

"Not much to offer as a guest room, but our one best bet," he apologized. "I'll confess frankly that there isn't a single bunk-sheet in the detachment. But I think I can guarantee a sound sleep for both of you. I'll promise there'll be no breakfast alarm in the morning, but the makings of a meal will be beside the kitchen stove when you're ready."

Fretful unexpected came from mid-mannered Mrs. Morrow. "But we're routing you out of house and home, sergeant," she exclaimed. With a nod of her blond head, she indicated an extra uniform which dangled from a hook against the wall, tell-tale staff stripes upon its crimson sleeve.

"A dreadful thing to do," added Moira. "And on your first night home after your long patrol!"

The portion of Seymour's face that was lit by the light from the tunic that had betrayed him. "And I thought I'd removed all trace of the former occupant. Must be getting color blind." He carried the jacket into the living room. "Don't worry about your reverend, Mrs. Morrow; he'll bunk as snug as a bug out here with La Marr and me," he called back. There was a chorus of good-nights then the men settled to their places beside the fireplace. After a reasonable walk in silence, Seymour lowered his voice and communicated to La Marr the news of the tragedy.

Without reservation, the missionary approved their course of keeping it from Moira until after the necessary legal formalities had been carried out. Then, he said, he would take charge with a religious reverence that might lighten the blow.

"She's a wonderful woman, Moira O'Malley," he said with deep feeling. "She endeared herself to everyone who met her over at Wolf Lake. I utterly wrapped up in her brother, this will be a terrible blow. I wonder if—" He hesitated. "Would it be admissible, do you think, to tell her of the death but not the fearful form?"

Glances exchanged by the three laymen showed that they were all of the missionary's struggle—kindly thought against strict truthfulness. Long had he taught the "truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth." But just now he wavered.

"By gosh! It absolutely would!" Karmack volunteered.

Seymour's quick wit worked out a solution. "An accident of the prairie. I'll trust having that one marked up against me in the Doomsday Book."

"Blessed are the kindly of heart," murmured the "sky-pilot." "So be it."

Of course, they all realized that Moira would learn in time the nature of the "accident," but this need not be until time had its chance to save the wound. The arrest of Avic need not bring about disclosure, once the whites in Armistice were pledged to keep it from her. She might know his only as another unfortunate, misguided Eskimo slayer, a handout from the Cleepe of the Lady Franklin in hand, then in the guard room. "But Mrs. Morrow!" The thought came suddenly to Seymour that the woman missionary spoke some Eskimo. "She'll hear of it from the natives."

Lake Morrow smiled; they did not know of the iron which was in her. "She is a good woman, so merciful. I will pray this out with her in the morning."

For a time, gloomy silence held the group around the fireplace. Suddenly Karmack leaned over and grasped Morrow almost roughly by the shoulder.

"Parson, do you know what that girl left her father and the comparative comforts of a British Columbia gold camp to share a trader's shack in bleak Armistice with her brother?" The trader's demand scarcely could have been more vehement had he personally resented Moira's coming. "I know that he did not expect her. What's more, he never even spoke of having a sister."

The missionary's calm was perfect. "She had no way of letting him know that she was coming to spend the winter with him, once the wireless was sent to Edmonton failed to reach Wolf Lake," he replied. "She came through herself by team in the first storm of winter. We had great difficulty in keeping her with us until we ourselves were ready to make the trip across country. She'd have come through with an Indian dog-driver if we had not protested so stoutly."

"All that to see a brotherly?" snorted Karmack. "Are you certain she is his sister?"

Seymour sprang to his feet, an angry glimmer in his gray eyes. "Enough of that, Karmack! Express another such doubt and out you go—for good."

For a moment, a snarling expression strove to master the trader's face. The missionary purred out.

"I'm sure Mr. Karmack meant nothing wrong. He's just a bit upset by all these happenings."

"Upset? Dear eyes, yes—I'll say I'm upset. The factor made a quick grasp for peace, for the sergeant looked dangerous. "All I mean was that I could understand a wife going to such an effort to join a husband, but not a sister."

"You're ready to believe Oliver O'Malley had a wife?" Seymour remained stern.

"None in the world. But a sister—to make a trip like that, she must have had some very pressing reason."

"And she was so captivated the parson?" Seymour expressed it to no avail. "If there existed any other than sisterly affection," said Morrow evenly, "I can't express it to no avail. His manner was so final as to make further questioning discourteous."

"Usually ex-Karmack had used his probe, but he had echoed a query that had been in Seymour's mind from his first meeting with the trader. He put his question without giving of sense."

Why had one who deserved to be the honored guest of the Dominion rushed into the Arctic wilds, evidently unasked, certainly unexpected, at any time when it would be next to impossible to send her back?

Was there any connection between her coming and what had occurred recently in the Eskimo plot? Had she brought a warning of some sort to this beloved brother and been lulled into thinking she might delay for a missionary escort and still be in time to serve and save him?

These rapid-fire speculations, unvoiced, seemed to advise only negative answers. Yet why had she come? Constable La Marr, who had been almost all evening to a point of moodiness, now shrugged Seymour from his thoughts with a question of his own.

"And when are you going to turn me loose after that accused Avic?" he demanded in a tone that was scarcely subordinate.

The missionary looked up at his visitor, but had no answer for the speech of it. These men who give their lives to lighten the Arctic native's sorry burden grow accustomed to strong language.

"At daybreak you will take the dogs, mush over to Prospect, and subpoena those three witness engineers wintering there to serve on corner's jury. Bring them back with you. Miss O'Malley need know of only one request." He glanced with thoughtful eyes toward the closed door of the inner room.

One look at the young constable's face must have told any who saw it that Avic, the Eskimo, would need to hide like a weasel to escape that arm of the law.

CHAPTER V.

Silver and Black

La Marr was away at dawn with a venre facias for each of the three gold explorers, the only competent buyers within reach. As it was a matter of forty miles rough sledding to the prospectors' camp and return, the requests could scarcely be held before the late afternoon. That the girl whose emotions they were conspiring to protect might be too busy for vagrant suspicions, Sergeant Seymour suggested to the Morrises that they open up Mission House while he was at liberty to help them.

"Don't want to seem inhospitable, Mrs. Morrow," he said in his slowest, most deferential manner, "and you know you'll be welcome here as long as you care to stay. But I'm sure you want to get your young place as soon as possible. Never know when some Arctic hare is going to cut loose and take me out of the picture. I'm on duty this morning—more than ready to help with the heavy work."

This brought an offer from Moira O'Malley that struck the hearts of those who knew.

"Our servant of the Disinherited is positively brilliant this morning," she said, confounding him utterly with twin flashes of fire. "After this, all the time I attended school in Ottawa, I saw no one more considerate. You get what you get back from me, I considerate much of his, I'll become quite useless as your handmaiden. Emma with all that, she had her own ideas as to the proper habitat in an outland's camp for a girl like Moira."

"Oh, you'll keep right on living at Mission House as long as you're here," said the sergeant, as the back of a bachelor trader is no place for so dashing a belle."

"But I know Olie's quarters, whatever they are, will need my sisterly attentions," she protested, spreading unconscious agony to the two men. "His room at home always was a sight. A place for everything but nothing in its place, as you call it. That's Moira's motto."

As the two went on ahead to the small dwelling that had been closed since the previous spring thaw, Seymour found himself asking again who the girl was. "No sister as devoted as that?" As motherly. Never having had a sister, he was unable to answer.

The pair stripped weather boarding from doors and windows, aired the house thoroughly, and then, with a supply of wood from the shed, they then closed it tight and built a roaring fire in the stove.

So far as the two males could see, but little inside cleaning could be necessary. But the women, on coming to the house presently, revised that verdict and fell to with broom and mop.

The smoke from Mission House stovepipes probably had been reported to Karmack, for he arrived presently, his interpreter drawing a tobacco-an loaded with provisions which were presented to the missionaries with compliments from the trading company. The gift was gracious, the supplies being of a sort not found in the somewhat meager stores of staples provided by the societies. They were gratefully received.

Came then a second shock from Moira, again an innocent one, in the form of coupled questions.

"But Mr. Karmack, have you looked the store?" she asked first.

"Not much these wintry days, and if customers come, they'll stick around like summer bull-dies. He accomplished the only laugh of the morning."

"But who is there to tell Oliver, when he comes back, that I've arrived and am waiting?"

Harry Karmack's freshly shaved, usually ruddy face went as white as the girl's natural pallor at this unexpected turn to his attempted whimicality. He staggered back as if he had struck him a blow. Seymour, standing near, steadied him by a chair.

"That had heart of yours again, old top," the sergeant asked quietly.

No one who had heard of anything being the matter with Karmack's heart, but the timely question served to cover his emotion. He was a clerk.

Noticed it, but did not wonder thereat. Evidently Moira had hit these sons of isolation hard, and there were in prospect interesting sessions, she thought, for Mission House living room that winter.

Seymour decided he had endured enough agony for one morning and so, on the plea of police routine, started for the post, but the thumbcuss of misadventure was to receive one more turn. From the door of Mission House the melodious voice of Moira carried to him.

Celebrated Unique Holiday

People Fittingly Observe "Name Day" of Slavic Alphabet

The Bulgarian people celebrated a unique holiday on May 24 when throughout the country was observed the "name day" of the Slavic, or Cyrillic, alphabet and of its creators, the monks Cyril and his brother Methodius. It was in the ninth century and from the city of Salonica that these bold men promulgated their alphabet which was designed to propagate the Christian faith among Slavic peoples.

One of the notable observances took place at the Monastery of St. Ivan of Rila, in the mountains above Samokov, where the Bulgarian letters created by the apostles from Latin, Greek and Hebrew material, were preserved from extinction during the Turkish domination of five centuries.

The celebration of the day is also marked by the Bulgarian Church to respect the introduction of Christianity among the Bulgarian people, and its spread to the other Slavic peoples by the followers of Sts. Cyril and Methodius.

RED HOT JULY DAYS
HARD ON THE BABY

July—The month of oppressive heat; red hot days and sweltering nights; is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother can do but little to guard to prevent these troubles or if they come on suddenly to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the trouble does come on suddenly, it will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Romans regarded salt as a sacred article of food, hence no other dish was allowed to be placed upon the table before the salt was in position.

TO EXPECTANT MOTHERS

A Letter from Mrs. Smith Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Trenton, Ont.—"I am writing to you in regard to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would not by any means say that it cured me before each of my children was born, and afterwards, and it did a great help. Before my first baby was born I had shortness of breath and nothing in my mind. I felt as if I would never pull through. One day a friend of my husband told him that the Vegetable Compound had done for his wife and advised him to take a bottle home for me. After the fourth bottle I was a different woman. I have four children now, and I always find the Vegetable Compound a great help at it seems to make confinement easier. I recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. FRED H. SMYTH, John St., Trenton, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system, so that it may work in every respect where it is most needed. Thousands of women testify to this fact.

KNOTTY POINTS TO BE SETTLED AT CONFERENCE

Paris.—The aims and objects of the inter-allied conference and the views of France and Great Britain as to the controversial points at issue may be settled after a text which Premier MacDonald and M. Herriot agreed should be substituted for the British text, which caused a storm of protests in opposition circles in France.

The new text sets for a series of provisions:

1—Both countries confirm their acceptance of the Daves plan.

2—They agree that the arrangements to be made under the Daves plan must not infringe upon the authority of the Reparation Commission.

3—In case the Reparation Commission declares Germany in voluntary default in the execution of the Daves plan the interested governments undertake to confer immediately as to the measures for putting into effect the penalties, concerning which they shall have come to an agreement previously for their protection and for the protection of the subscribers to the loan to Germany.

4—The plan whereby the economic and fiscal unity of Germany shall be re-established when the Reparation Commission shall have reported the Daves plan in effect, will be drawn up by the inter-allied conference.

5—Common accord of the governments alone can modify the experts' plan in case experience proves that changes are necessary.

6—The allies shall set up an organization to study and report on the utilization of payments made by Germany toward reparations.

The text points out that while the Reparation Commission cannot be disposed of its prerogative to decide when Germany is in default, guarantees must be provided for the subscribers to the German loan of $60,000,000 marks.

Increase Compensation For Registered Letters

Amount of $100 May Be Paid For Loss

Ottawa.—The bill to amend the Post Office Act, increasing the compensation that may be paid for loss of registered letters to $100, was given third reading in the House of Commons. Under the present law the limit of compensation is $25 for registered articles, but insurance may be obtained up to $100. Hon. Charles Stewart, acting postmaster-general, stated that the rates for registration for increased values under consideration were 20 cents for $50; 30 cents for $75; and 40 cents for $100.

Government System Of Bank Inspection In Canada

Ottawa.—A bill to provide a system of government inspection of Canadian banks passed committee stage in the House of Commons and merely awaits final reading in the House before going to the Senate for approval. The measure comes as a sequel to the failure of the Home Bank and subsequent investigations of the Canadian banking system by a Parliamentary committee, during which expert evidence from United States was called. Under the bill, an inspector-general of banks will be appointed, the inspector reporting to the minister of finance.

Referred To Supreme Court

Doubt Has Arisen In Reference To Eight-Hour Day Legislation

Ottawa.—Reference of the eight-hour day convention to the Supreme Court of Canada for opinion on jurisdiction will be recommended to the House of Commons by the committee on industrial and internal relations. The convention was adopted at the Washington conference of the International Labor Organization of the League of Nations.

Canada was a party to the convention, but doubt has arisen whether the implementation of the legislation comes under federal or provincial jurisdiction. It is this doubt which, if the committee recommendation is adopted, will be referred to the Supreme Court for opinion.

An amendment to a report as originally presented, recommending that the government should bring down legislation to provide for the eight-hour day on all government contracts entered into in future, was also adopted.

Voluntary Salary Cut Would Be Temporary

Offer of C. N. Officials Would Apply Only During Curtailment Period Montreal.—If the board of management of the Canadian National Railway accept the offer of the officers of the railway to have their salaries reduced one per cent, pay a month during the period of curtailed receipts, it is pointed out that President Sir Henry Thornton will contribute more than $1,000 in a year from his $50,000 salary.

If accepted, it is thought here that the officers' voluntary cut could last only as long as the reduction in hours for the men in the shops of the system continued. The reduction would apply, if accepted, to every officer above the rank of chief clerk.

Praises Canadian Display

Outstanding Exhibit at Wembley Says

Edmonton.—Hon. Geo. Hoadley, minister of agriculture, who has returned home after visiting the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley as the official representative of the province. Mr. Hoadley was enthusiastic regarding the fair, declared it to be the best he had ever visited. Canada's exhibit, he said, was easily the most outstanding exhibit there.

Danes and Norwegians For Canada
Quebec.—The bringing of immigrants to Canada, particularly Danes and Norwegians, is one of the main objects of the trip to Europe of President E. W. Beatty, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who has sailed on the steamship Montauk. The Danes and Norwegians he described as "our people workers" who would be great assets to Canada.

Prince Sails On August 25
Southampton, England.—It is announced that the Prince of Wales will sail for Canada with four or five friends on August 25, and will return to England about the beginning of October. No elaborate arrangements are being made for the trip, and the Prince, at his own request, will travel as an ordinary first-class passenger.

Japanese Immigration
Ottawa.—From April 1, 1918, to May 31, 1924, a total of 3,069 Japanese women entered Canada as settlers. During the same period 439 male Japanese laborers and 1,345 male Japanese, other than laborers, were admitted.

Thanks Canada For Reception

Admiral Field Expresses Appreciation Of Welcome at Vancouver

Vancouver.—Lieut-Governor W. C. Nichol, who has acted throughout the reception to the British special service squadron as official representative of the Dominion Government, and, on its behalf, extended the formal welcome to Vice-Admiral Sir Frederick Field, received from the admiral just before the latter's leaving for San Francisco, an expression of appreciation.

"Before leaving British Columbia," writes Sir Frederick, "I wish, on behalf of the flag officers and ship company of the special service squadron, to thank you and, through you, the people of British Columbia for the warm-hearted welcome and generous hospitality extended to us throughout our most delightful visit to Victoria, Esquimalt and Vancouver."

Similar expression has also been given by Rear-Admiral Sir Hubert Brand, in command of the light cruiser squadron, which remained at Esquimalt through the whole period of the fleet's visit.

Lloyd George Heard From

Former Premier of Great Britain Now Stirring Political Waters

London.—Is Lloyd George about to start out in a fresh breeze to stir political waters of the British Empire? Of late the former premier has frequently been likened to the proverbial ship without a sail. "Has he discovered or bent on a main sail and headed into political winds from which England is never free?"

These are questions asked following the dinner when Lord Beaverbrook entertained the visiting Canadian weekly newspapermen, and at which Mr. Lloyd George was the piece de resistance among the orators.

Lloyd George was hailed by the host of the evening as the "greatest Empire builder of our time." It is considered significant that the Daily Express, which is a Beaverbrook publication, today gives the Lloyd George speech verbatim, despite the many generalities of the address and the limited space in the paper.

Grain Loading Record Is Made At Montreal

Steamer Takes 274,590 Bushels In Six and a Quarter Hours

Montreal.—Setting all previous records for rapid loading of grain in the port of Montreal and creating what is believed to be a world's record, the British steamer Intrepid, 3,241 tons, took on board 274,590 bushels of Canadian wheat in six and a quarter hours at the harbor commission's elevator B, new conveyor section. The previous record was made in August, 1922, when the British steamer Clearpool took on board 240,000 bushels of wheat in 9½ hours.

Not Invited to Polo Matches

London.—The secretary to the Prince of Wales denied that the Prince had received or accepted an invitation to attend the polo matches between the United States and Great Britain in the United States in September.

Expresses Confidence In Executive Of Farmers' Union

Regina, Sask.—L. C. Brouillette, secretary of the wheat pool organization and vice-president of the Farmers' Union, expressed his entire confidence in the executive of the union and his approval of what had been done by that body. At the same time he voiced regret over the original statement given out by W. M. Thrasher, in which the latter branded the confidential circular soliciting support of Farmers' Union delegates to the pool as an oversteering of authority on the part of the secretary. As to the movement to gain control of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company, Mr. Brouillette remained non-committal.

Governor-General Will Make Tour Of West

Baron and Lady Byng to Spend Some Time in British Columbia

Ottawa.—Governor-General Byng, accompanied by Lady Byng, will leave the capital over the Canadian Pacific Railway, on Sunday, July 20, on his trip to Western Canada, most of which will be spent in British Columbia, according to the itinerary announced here.

Arriving at Winnipeg at 6:15 p.m. July 22, he will leave the next morning, stopping a few hours at Regina and Calgary, and arriving at Vancouver at 3 p.m. July 26. The next day will be spent in Victoria, and on July 28, he is scheduled to leave for Port Huron, at 10 p.m., arriving there the next morning.

Sumnerland, Kelowna, Okanagan Landing, Grand Forks, Trail, Rossland, Nelson, Balfour, Kaslo, Ladouk, Kootenay Landing, Cranbrook, Fernie, Crow's Nest, Blairmore, Frank, Lake Windermere, Arrow, Head, Nakusp, Revelstoke, Vernon and Salmon Arm, will be visited before His Excellency returns to Ottawa on train No. 2 C.P.R., leaving Vancouver at 10:15 a.m. August 13, to meet the officers of the British special service naval squadron. Her Excellency, in the meantime, will pay a visit to Jasper Park. The Governor-General leaves Ottawa again on August 26, and will rejoin Lady Byng at North Bay.

They will then visit Northern Ontario points together, returning to Ottawa, September 6.

Replies To Charges Against Pension Board

Secretary Denies Veterans' Charges Of Not Receiving Square Deal

Ottawa.—J. A. Paton, secretary of the board of pension commissioners, replied to charges of incompetence made against the board of veterans' organizations, before the House of Commons committee on soldiers' pensions. Answering the charge that the veterans were not receiving a square deal, Mr. Paton said that thousands of men had been receiving pensions for years, without complaint of dissatisfaction. The board had awarded increases in pensions wherever possible, according to the statutes as amended in 1923.

The committee then proceeded in camera to discuss the motion of L. W. Humphrey, Progressive, West Kootenay, to remove from office the members of the board of pensions commissioners.

Mountaineer Reported Safe

Edmonton, Alta.—Dr. A. Thorington, Philadelphia, a well-known mountaineer, who left Jasper with his Swiss guide, Copied Kain, and who was later reported to have been the victim of an accident or lost, is now safe, and members of the local Alpine Club who went in search of him have returned to Jasper, according to word received here.

Vancouver Police Raid Clubs

Vancouver.—Nine men were arrested and alleged liquor valued at approximately $500 was seized, when the liquor act enforcement squadron of the city police seized a series of raids on returned soldiers' and other club organizations in the city.

Distribute Canteen Fund

Ottawa.—Distribution of the canteen fund of the Canadian Expeditionary Force will be provided for in government legislation to be brought down this session.

NO LEGISLATION THIS YEAR ON RURAL CREDITS

Ottawa.—Another fruitless attempt to obtain legislation this year with regard to rural credits was made G. G. Coote, Progressive member for Macleod, before the House Banking and Commerce Committee, when he moved that legislation on the subject should be brought down this session. In view of previous action taken, when the committee decided to report to the House for legislation next session, Chairman Vlen/asked if Mr. Coote would drop his motion. Coote would drop his motion.

"No," replied Mr. Coote. "You can easily kill it, but I will not drop it. The people are tired of investigation and want action."

The chairman said Dr. H. M. Torry, president of Alberta University, who investigated rural credits for the government, had reported that a further inquiry was necessary.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative, Vancouver Centre, who supported the proposal for emergency action this year, held that before adopting Mr. Coote's present motion it would be necessary to rescind the action taken previously.

Mr. Coote's motion was defeated.

Only four voted for it.

Mr. Coote later moved to limit the issues of bank notes to 50 per cent of the unimpaired, paid-up capital instead of 100 per cent as at present. He stated frankly that he proposed that as a stop toward substituting government notes for bank notes. After a brief discussion Mr. Coote withdrew this motion and discussion shifted to a second proposal by the same member that the control of bank notes issues should be transferred to the finance department from the Canadian Bankers' Association as now. This was voted down, 29 to 10.

Will Continue Allied Military Control

Request of Germany Denied by Council of Ambassadors

Paris.—Germany's request that inter-allied military control of her armaments cease on September 30, was denied by the Allied Council of Ambassadors in a note handed to the German ambassador. Satisfaction was expressed, however, that the Germans had agreed to the main point, demanded by the council, the resumption of the Control Commission's activities.

The ambassador's note informed Germany that the council of control would depend entirely upon the satisfactory results of the commission's work and on German compliance with the five requirements made of her previously, regarding disarmament. The method of disarmament inspection would be determined by the inter-allied control commission, the note set forth, and any suggestion the Germans wished to offer would be considered.

Democratic Nominee

John W. Davis, of West Virginia, Is Elected By Democrats

New York.—The Democratic national convention brought its tempestuous session to a close by placing before the country a ticket headed by John W. Davis of West Virginia, with Governor Charles W. Bryan, of Nebraska, in second place. The nomination of the Nebraska, who is a brother of William Jennings Bryan, took only one ballot. The word that the leaders wanted him nominated was passed quickly about the convention hall and the result was not long in doubt.

John W. Davis, of West Virginia, nominated for the Presidency by the Democratic national convention in the breaking up of its historic deadlock, assumed the active leadership of the party.

Not Building Storage In B.C.

Regina, Sask.—J. A. Gregory, president of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Creamery, upon returning to this city, denied a report which stated that his organization intended constructing a huge cold storage plant at Vancouver for the storage of Saskatchewan butter. He stated that he found prospects of a good market for Saskatchewan butter in B.C. and also in the Orient.

ONE OF NATURE'S WONDERS

The Devil's Potholes

Entrance to Cave, Maligne Canyon

The Canyon in Winter

MALIGNE CANYON, in Jasper National Park, is one of the natural wonders of the entire Rocky Mountain region. A vast cleft in the solid rock, reaching a depth of some 200 feet, and so narrow in places that one may step across it easily, draws from the tourist expressions of awe and wonder at the power of accumulated forces of water.

Tumbling headlong down the narrow gorge, goes the Maligne River, mysterious as to its source and for part of its length a subterranean stream, on its way to join the quieter waters of the Athabasca far below. At times on its passage through the narrow gorge, it tumbles more than one hundred feet in a sheer drop, its eddies being churned to foam as the waters beat a tattoo against the rocky sides of the canyon on their downward leap.

From the footbridges which span the narrow gash in the solid rock, tourists watch entranced the effect of the waters on the rocky sides. Here and there, seemingly tired of the effort to stand upright through the centuries, the sides of the gorge appear to have leaned toward one another, until an intervening rock cast itself into the narrow space and held the walls apart. Trunks of trees and jutting rocks form footbridges across the chasm a hundred feet below the tourists' feet, as they stand admiring the plot of the noon-day sun upon the falling water.

Maligne Canyon is a mecca for visitors to Jasper Park Lodge, the splendid log-cabin hospitality of the Canadian National Railway, and rightly so, for there are few natural rock formations to equal in interest those found in the canyon.

The Devil's Potholes, curious indentations in the solid rock over which the Maligne River flowed before the Canyon was worn to its present depth, are holes worn deep in the surface rock by the action of swirling flood waters, when a large stone has been whirled round and round in an unending circle until the stone itself was worn small and round, and deep circular holes have been ground into the surface of the rock, remaining as mute testimony to the power of rushing waters.

Maligne Canyon, while one of the most wonderful formations to be found in the Rocky Mountains, is but one of the many natural attractions of Jasper National Park. In addition there are the snow-capped peaks on every side; the glaciers of Mount Edith Cavell and the mountains surrounding Maligne Lake, the Hoodoos of the Cavell motor highway and hundreds of others. Wild animal life is abundant, and the calm peace of the out-of-doors is assured to the tired holiday-seeker.

And in addition to the natural beauties of the Park, a commodious log cabin bungalow hotel, with excellent cuisine and all the comforts of the modern city hotel, provides a starting point from which parties may radiate by motor or pack-horse or afoot to travel by motor road or pack trail into the very heart of the wilderness. It was the addition of the comforts and conveniences of Jasper Park Lodge to the beauties of Jasper National Park which caused one noted American traveller to exclaim: "At last, I have found the place, where God and man go fifty-fifty to produce perfection."

Stony Plain and District.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE!
Mr Laird was a visitor on Monday to the business section—on crutches.

Bert Williams, a former resident here but now of Wainwright, was a visitor in Stony on Tuesday.

The pupils of St. Matthew's School gave a very interesting program on Sunday afternoon last on the Church grounds. The dialogues, songs and recitations were well presented, and greatly delighted the large audience present.

Bills are hung up for an auction sale at the Yukon Cattle Farm, Blueberry, for Monday next, July 21.

Young Henry Baron of Golden Spike, was unfortunate last week in being kicked in the face by a horse. He was brought in to town, where his injuries were attended to by Dr Walton.

The Sunday School in connection with the Reformed Lutheran Church held a very successful picnic last week.

Services at St. Joseph's Church, Spruce Grove, will be commenced on Sunday next July 20.

The dance Friday night at Molborn Hall was a repetition of the good time experienced the previous Friday evening by all who attended. This is the best dance hall west of the Fifth, is now the general verdict.

Walman will soon have a woolen mill established in the town, backed by an Edmonton syndicate.

Ponoka Herald: Regrettable to announce—and to contemplate—but the fact is, the women attending the Stampede were bigger gamblers on the Midway than the men. And, it was noted, many of them appeared to be old hands at the game, and not always unsuccessful.

Sporting Notes.

The ball game last week between Muir Lake and the Glory Hills bunch resulted in a win for Muir Lake 16 runs to 4.

Stony's ball team had a walkover in the game with Evansburg last week, on the local grounds. The local hitters did what they pleased with the pitchers from the West. Home run Graden is asking that the tennis court fence be moved back, as it interferes with his long hits. Score: Stony 16 runs, Evansburg 4.

The well known ball player Mr Hildebrand has been incapacitated for the game for a short time, owing to a felon on his hand.

A short time ago Eric Heichen said he could pick up a scrub ball team and beat McCulla's regular bunch, and Friday night he made it come true. The way the schoolboys galloped around the bases and piled-up the runs was a sight worth watching. Of course at first, the elders were generous, didn't want to beat the youths too bad; but when in the third inning the score stood Boys 10 and Men 3 the manager of the senior bunch realised it was time to change fathers, which he did. But, possibly the elders didn't want to win, as they used up only four pitchers in eight innings—McMulla, Loeblich, Steekle and Zicht.

Those who defeated the champions were: Hy Trist, Alf Heichen, J. Miller, Conrad Fahr, Walker, John, Joe and Ph Ulmer.

Score: Scrubs 16, Stony 8.

Eric's Pets are so pleased at the result of the game, they are hankering to repeat the performance, and their wish may be justified. The backers of the juniors are talking of putting up a silver cup to be competed for when the Regulars and Scrubs meet again.

On Sunday Stony's regular ball team played Pidgeon's team in Duffield, with the result Duffield won, 8 runs to 5.

After the ball game, Stony's footballers played a game with the Skinawabos from the Reserve, and the dark brown native sons got Stony's scalps, 1 goal to 0.

A letter this week from that fine young sportsman, Henry R. Miller, who is now in Detroit, indicates he is taking quite an interest in the doings of Stony's ball team, and he hopes they "cop the pennant again this season."

Messrs Steekle, Loeblich, G Graden and Chesner played for Evansburg ball team at the picnic at Alberta Beach on Saturday last.

Duffield Athletic Club is holding its annual picnic to pay, with sports of all kinds on the program.

The next football game in the cup series with Spruce Grove will be played some time in the latter part of next month.

Here and There

A party of 80 Australian boys will be the guests of the Exhibition at Toronto from August 30th to September 3rd. They are public school boys from all parts of Australia and their trip will be made on their way home from the British Empire Exhibition.

British Columbia is now the third manufacturing province of Canada, with 5,073 manufacturing establishments, over 41,000 employees, invested capital amounting to nearly $225,000,000 and a value of products of approximately $250,000,000, according to Government statistics.

New Brunswick in 1923 produced more coal than at any other time in her history. The output for the year exceeded that of 1922 by more than 12,000 tons and amounted to 261,091 long tons. It is estimated that this industry creates a value of over $1,100,000 annually, most of which goes out in wages and for the benefit of the province.

What will probably be the last big round-up of horses in the West will take place shortly in the country south-east of Calgary, Alberta, for the purpose of clearing the range. The horses will be gathered in one central corral, where owners may claim their animals. It is anticipated that about 10,000 animals will be secured. The Department of Agriculture is supervising the arrangements.

Unstinted praise from prominent citizens and the press of Alberta is given the Canadian Pacific Railway in connection with the Company's recently announced branch line construction program, affecting the southern portion of the province, the C. P. Railway member of the Provincial Legislature for Bow Valley, describes the announcement as the most important made in many years.

"Perhaps the most noteworthy fact was discovered was the vastly improved psychology of the people of the province," commented E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, on his return from a recent inspection of the Company's property. "They are full of hope and confidence, the farmers on the east shore realize, the tremendous benefit to the whole of Canada, a second consecutive large harvest."

The number of big industrial undertakings projected for immediate construction on the coast of British Columbia provides a striking indication of how that province is going ahead. A $400,000 logging railway up the Skeena River Valley, a $1,000,000 mill plant at Chemainus, a $20,000,000 amusement centre at Victoria and a $200,000 sawmill at Port Courtenay, with about $10,000,000 in power plants in the Skeena-Lake District are some of the more important and a host of smaller projects are also under way.

Practically all Canada's production of newsprint for export in March was absorbed by the United States. Of March shipments amounting to 127,583 tons valued at $7,766,530, the United States received 125,548 tons, valued at $7,617,823. The only other Canadian exports of newsprint of importance were 669 tons to South Africa and 1,007 tons to New Zealand. It is expected that April shipments will show an even greater proportion of consignments to the United States.

The concentration camp for emigrants to Canada and the United States maintained by the Canadian Pacific Railway and other steamship companies, is located at Southampton, England. It has an average daily attendance of 600 and, on some days the number about 1,000. Comfortable quarters and meals at moderate cost are provided. The features of the camp are the special dining-room for Jewish passengers, the private shower baths with towels and bathing gowns supplied and the individual rooms which are also available.
